Christianson's are EVERGREEN SPECIALISTS

Each tree is a select specimen expertly balled in its own earth. Suitable for the most exact landscape use. Few evergreens have obtained the popularity of the Colorado Spruce. It is a tree primarily for northern planters.

COLORADO GREEN SPRUCE is identical with the Blue Spruce except for its color. In a field of a thousand trees or more all planted from the same seed source, about 10 to 15 per cent will run blue, the others green. That is why the Blues are more expensive and very short in supply nationwide. If you want good Blues, you should order without delay.

No other flower does more to herald the coming of spring. For showy display Crocus should always be planted in groups or masses. They will grow in many places—in the lawn, in flower beds, in rock gardens, in sun or shade and under trees. Especially effective along borders. When planted in the lawn they bloom early, before mowing season. Soon the foliage will disappear and mowing will not injure plants. The foliage will reappear the following spring. When planting bulbs in the lawn, just broadcast a handful here and there. Plant where they drop—it looks natural. Just lift a piece of sod the size of the bulb, insert the bulb about 3 inches deep, press the sod down—and that's it!
